

RTI REALIGNED

ALL schools had gaps in our measures of student success pre-Covid and now even more so. It's an overwhelming time and a huge undertaking as we attempt to bridge these gaps and keep students and faculty safe.

What we do...

- Advise on data collection tools that are most helpful for your specific school district's culture.
- Assist in gathering all usable data points into a database that will "paint a picture" of what each individual site needs.
- Disaggregate each site's data and provide color-coded data sheets by grade level.
- Conference with grade level leadership to provide assisting with leveling and grouping classroom rosters.
- Prescribe targeted/research-based interventions that are people-driven and use materials that are free or inexpensive (NO packaged product purchases needed).
- Train intervention team members... "All hands on deck!"
- Provide record keeping tools (again... NO packaged product purchases needed).
- Assist with realigning scheduling issues for intervention blocks.
- Provide parent friendly written materials for conferencing.
- Demonstrate a workable system of using formative assessments to evaluate growth throughout the school year.
- Provide overworked teachers with a workable plan that will reduce their workload.

BUT, most important...

- Bridge the gaps for our struggling learners... data proven, yes... but, most importantly producing students who are at or above grade level in both reading and math.

We have plans for data disaggregation only and plans that include various levels of onsite training. Call or email to find a plan that works for your district's (or school's) budget.
